Claim(s) discussed: 29, 41, 43, and 44 Identification of prior art discussed: Yildirim et al. and/or Nisbet et al.
Agreement with respect to the claims f) was reached. g) was not reached. h) N/A. Substance of Interview including description of the general nature of what was agreed to if an agreement was reached, or any other comments: Applicant's Representative urges that Nisbet et al. and Yildirum et al. do not teach Bifidobacteria that secrete a siderophore. Examiners pointed out that the siderophore of Yildirum which is a bacteriocin is a peptide and Applicants disclose that their siderophore is a peptide. Therefore, it appears that the bacteriocin of the piror art is a siderophore. With respect to Nisbet et al. since Salmonella is inhibited it appears that a siderophore is also secreted by the Bifidobacteria disclosed therein. Present claims do not require siderophore to have any function. Examiners suggested claimed siderohore to have a function by ihibiting bacteria that cited references do not inhibit. Further, examiners mentioned that deposit requirement will be a revisited issue if claims are limited as noted above. Examiners indicated that scope rejection is still considered appropriate as well as art applied against to require a product of nature and claims should recite isolate fund in nature. (A fuller description, if necessary, and a copy of the amend	present claims. Also examiners mentioned that claims appear ated to distinguish from a natural bifidobactera since the same diments which the examiner agreed would render the claims copy of the amendments that would render the claims allowable is
